Once upon a time, there lived two pigeons. They were husband and wife. They spent their days looking for food. In the evening they would come and rest on their favourite tree in the forest.

One evening, the wife returned home early. As usual she was waiting for her husband, when suddenly it started raining. She started to worry. "Where are you, my dear? You never get so late," she whispered to herself.

Just then she saw a bird-catcher coming towards her. In a cage he had a pigeon. It was her husband. "Oh no, what shall I do now" I wish I could help my husband," she said.

The poor wife sat by her husband's cage. And she started to cry. The husband said. "Do not feel sad, dear. We now have a guest. This man is hungry. He needs your help." Hearing this, the wife made a fire for the bird-catcher. Then she looked at the bird-catcher and said, "You are our guest, since I have no food to offer, I will jump into this fire. In a few minutes. You can eat me."

The bird-catcher liked the hospitality of the pigeon couple. He opened the cage and set the husband free. "I have been cruel and selfish. I will never trap any bird in my net again," said the bird-catcher and went away.

Exercise 4

Read about the story. Answer the questions 30 to 32.

There was a grocery shop in town. Plenty of mice lived in that grocery shop. There was plenty of food for them. They ate everything and spoiled all the bags. They also wasted bread, biscuits and fruits of the shop.

The grocer got really worried. So, he thought "I should buy a cat and let it stay at the grocery. Only then I can save my things."

He bought a nice, big fat cat and let him stay there. The cat had a nice time hunting the mice and killing them. The mice could not move freely now. They were afraid that anytime the cat would eat them up.

The mice wanted to do something. They held a meeting and all of them tweeted "We must get rid of the cat. Can someone give a suggestion"?

All the mice sat and thought. A smart looking mouse stood up and said, "The cat moves softly. That is the problem. If we can tie a bell around her neck, then things will be fine. We will know the movements of the cat".

"Yes, that is answer," said all the mice. An old mouse slowly stood up and asked, "Who would tie the bell?" After some moments there was no one to answer this question.
